

Greetings:

As a customer of XM Radio, I was encouraged by the addition of traffic and weather content that was local to my market. This was very good news since the area that I travel will have several car accidents per month, but, neither of the two main AM radio stations here in Atlanta cover these fender benders unless there are several deaths.

AM Radio has gotten less and less relevant to me because they will not respond. For a while, WGST was running two stations, one on AM and one on FM. When they did this, I thought that AM radio was expanding Talk Radio into FM radio. The FM Radio was able to be picked up inside office buildings so you could listen when you were working. But, the AM Talk radio folks dropped the FM adventure and I was unable to hear inside my office again.

Did you know that there are no AM radios available that have antennas that you can buy to bring AM radio into an interior office. I am totally unable to listen to AM radio in my interior office.

This is not true for XM radio. XM is available on a radio that can be hooked up in my office via a "Home Base" kit and then moved to my car for using the "car kit". This gives me access to Talk Radio broadcasters, such as Tony Snow, Laura Ingraham, or Michael Reagan. I can also listen to the cable channel of Fox News Channel.

All in All, I have felt for years that AM Radio has left its customers behind and are taking advantage of us. XM Radio has not taken that tact. I ultimately am looking for more talk show defectors from exclusive AM Radio moving to XM Radio and AM Radio.
